Bushwalking The town of Milton is set on a ridge between valleys and the Great Dividing Range and has sweeping coastal views to the east. The landmark Pigeon House Mountain (719m) in The Budawangs forms a spectacular backdrop to the west. The mountain ranges are situated at the south-east corner of the Morton National Park (162000ha) one of the state's largest parks. The landforms are various and so there is a diversity of flora and fauna. To the north-west of Pigeon House Mountain are the plateaux of Byangee Wall, The Castle, Mt Bushwalker and Granite Falls. To the east the views of the coast stretch from Point Perpendicular in the north to Mt Dromedary in the south. For bushwalks

Take a Walk Southern NSW & ACT

Beaches Close to south coast beaches Mollymook and Narrawallee. Trails cover 40 kms of coastline walks from Lake Conjola to Merry Beach. The Conjola National Park reaches north from Milton along the coast to Sussex Inlet and covers an area of over 11,000 hectares. With large areas of woodland and heath with masses of wildflowers in spring, the park has an abundance of picnic areas, walking tracks and some of the best beaches in Australia.

Whales can be sighted during the migration season at various vantage points such as Warden

Head Lighthouse. Some of the popular local trails include the Milton rainforest walk, the One Track For All on Ulladulla's northern headland, a feature walk with carvings made by the Budawang Aboriginal Landcare group and The Coomee Nulunga Cultural Trail Warden Head the 700m track winds through low scrub to a viewing platform facing the beach. On the first day of every month there are free guided wild flower walks departing from the entrance located in Warden Street, Ulladulla at 10am. The walk follows the longer of 2 tracks (1.3 level kms) through the Ulladulla Wildflower Reserve.
